The Centreville District Community Development Association (CDCDA) has created a presence on the World Wide Web.

The objective of the web site is to promote Centreville, Kings County as a destination and as a good place to live and grow by advertising its infrastructure and amenities. These include the following: The Community Center, Businesses, local park facilities and green spaces, subdivision developments, accommodations and convenience stores and museums, etc...

The CDCDA is offering to residents and businesses in the Development District an opportunity to have their presence on the World Wide Web from the CDCDA web site.

In order to defer the cost of the web site the CDCDA has developed this cost structure:

To have a description of your business is $10.00 in advance. (no HST)

To have a description and a picture of your business $20.00 in advance. (no HST)

(Both options can have a link to your web site if it exists.)

There is a link on our home page to "Businesses".

The business owner and David Briggs will agree on the picture and the body of text for the CDCDA web site, proofs will be offered

David Briggs can take the picture of the business.

Because the hosting company charges the CDCDA on a yearly basis, the business will be on the CDCDA site for a year. The opportunity to renew at the agreed upon rate, to update the picture and text that accompanies it is available on an annual basis.
